Pam Bergeron has been in leadership positions in the public and private sector for over 25 years. She leverages that track record helping organizations achieve measurable change with her broad knowledge of leadership, teamwork, quality, communication, and motivation. She has worked with the Chair Academy for Leadership Development for the past 10 years and considers her experiences with Academy participants as some of her most professionally rewarding. Whether delivering a keynote address facilitating a Leadership Academy or an executive retreat, Pam surprises and delights people in colleges, corporations and universities worldwide with humor, quality, and candor.
