

COREY CAMPBELL

B.S., M.S., Ed.D.

Dean of Students

Keiser University

West Palm Beach, Florida, USA

Foundation Academy Graduate: Florida 2013

Advanced Academy Graduate: Florida 2016

Corey has over 15 years' experience within higher education in varying leadership roles. Different areas of experience include budget management, residential life, Greek life, judicial affairs, student services, campus recreation, career services, academic affairs, program management, athletics, facility operations, staff supervision & development, student activities, curriculum development and customer service. He has assisted with or directly overseen the expansion of five different recreational fitness centers on college campuses.

With a Bachelor of Science in Exercise and Sport Sciences and a Master of Science in Sport Management from the University of Florida and a Doctorate of Education from Nova Southeastern University, Corey is a firm believer in life-long learning. He also holds an instructor certification for CPR and First Aid with the American Red Cross. As a fitness professional, Corey has trained over 500 people in CPR and/or First Aid.

As an instructor, Corey has designed and implemented curriculum for numerous programs including Sport & Fitness, Executive Fitness, Sports Medicine & Fitness Technology, Leadership Distinction and Adult Education. He also has worked across departmental lines to develop formative educational programs for improving student retention such as the First Year Experience, Student Ambassadors, Peer Tutoring and Mentoring.

Corey has presented at numerous conferences on a variety of topics mostly focusing on fitness/wellness, leadership, student support services or curriculum design. He has also published articles related to fitness and student services in peer reviewed journals. Professionally, Corey is a member of NASPA, Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity, Inc. and life member of the Chair Academy. He also volunteers with the American Red Cross and the Boys and Girls Club.