Dr. Judy Korb has over 25 years of experience in education and training. Her background includes executive leadership, business professor, management consulting and professional/organizational development including needs assessment, meeting facilitation and training for businesses and colleges.

Judy is currently the Executive Vice President of Human Resources and Workforce, Community and Economic Development at Johnson County Community College in Overland Park, KS. She and her HR staff are responsible for compensation, benefits, employee relations, compliance and professional development opportunities for 2,500 faculty and staff at JCCC. In Workforce, Community and Economic Development, Judy and her staff create workforce and economic development solutions for Johnson County businesses and professionals through training and community partnerships.

Previously Judy spent four years as the Director of Staff and Organizational Development at JCCC. She was a full-time professor at Johnson County Community College where she taught Small Business Accounting, Accounting I and II and Human Relations for six years. She has also worked as a consultant in Johnson County Community College's Small Business Development Center assisting area entrepreneurs in developing business plans, creating and analyzing financial statements, conducting feasibility studies and providing general management advice. Judy spent seven years as the Program Director for Seminars and Special Events in the Center for Business and Technology at JCCC. Her responsibilities included planning and implementing a comprehensive schedule of non-credit seminars and classes to bring companies in the Kansas City metropolitan area the latest concepts and skills in professional development.

Judy has facilitated planning sessions, meetings and training for small and large companies and colleges on local, regional, and national levels. She consults and delivers training in interpersonal communication and organizational development topics for business and colleges. Judy has a Master's degree in business from Webster University and a Ph.D. in Educational Policy and Leadership/Organizational Behavior from the University of Kansas.
