Dr. Judy Korb has over 35 years of experience in education and training. Her background includes business professor, senior administrator in higher education, executive/professional coach, management and organizational development consultant - including needs assessment, meeting facilitation and training for businesses and colleges.

Judy is currently an adjunct Professor at Baker University, Mid-America Nazarene University and Rockhurst University in Doctorate of Higher Education and Master of Business Administration programs and a free-lance organizational development consultant. Judy is a certified executive professional coach and works with leaders in business and higher education to increase effectiveness. As an organizational development consultant, Judy facilitates planning sessions, meetings and training for companies and colleges. She consults and delivers training in interpersonal communication, leadership and strategic organizational development on local, regional and national levels.

Dr. Korb recently retired from Johnson County Community College in Overland Park, Kansas under an early retirement program. She holds the title of Executive Vice President, Emeritus, Instruction and Operations at JCCC. She served students, staff, faculty and the Board of Trustees in multiple roles throughout her career as she progressively accepted positions of increased responsibility. She started her career at JCCC as a part-time administrative assistant and concluded as the Executive Vice President of Instruction and Operations. As a senior administrator for over ten years, Judy was responsible for providing leadership to Academic Affairs, Student Success and Engagement, Grants and Leadership Development, Institutional Effectiveness, Planning and Research, Continuing Education, Human Resources and Legal Services. Johnson County Community College serves 19,000 students and employs over 2,500 faculty and staff.

Dr. Korb has an Associate of Arts degree in Business from Johnson County Community College, a Bachelor's Degree in Secondary Education/Business from Mid-America Nazarene University, a Master's degree in Business from Webster University and a Ph.D. in Educational Policy and Leadership/Organizational Behavior from the University of Kansas.
