

RANDAL SINGER

Consultant,
Singer, Stanton, and Associates
Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada
Facilitator Since: 2013
Foundation Academy Graduate: BC 2010-2011
Advanced Academy Graduate: Advanced Suffolk 2013-2014

In late 2017, Randy founded Singer, Stanton & Associates to provide consulting, training and facilitation services to higher education and business. The focus is on leadership, marketing, negotiation, facilitation, and online and face-to-face teaching and curriculum design and delivery.

Prior to branching out on his own, Randy worked 23 years for the British Columbia Institute of Technology School of Business, in Metro Vancouver. After seven years as teaching Faculty, he served seven years as Coordinator of Part-time Studies in the Marketing Management department, before nearly three years as Acting Associate Dean for the department.

In January 2012, he was appointed Associate Dean for two departments within the School of Business at BCIT, Digital Arts, and Broadcast and Media Communications. For six years he led a team of approximately 100 full time and sessional instructors and support staff delivering nine full time programs and 18 part-time studies (continuing education) programs, to approximately 1000 students at any given time.

Before a career change into post-secondary education in the mid-1990's, Randy was co-owner and Vice-President of a food processing and marketing firm, after working several years in Radio and Television Broadcasting in Ontario, Saskatchewan and British Columbia.

Randy completed The Chair Academy Foundation Leadership Academy in 2011, and the Advanced Academy in 2014. He holds an M.B.A. from Athabasca University, Canada's open, online university, the British Columbia Provincial Instructor Diploma, and a Diploma in Broadcasting—Radio and Television Arts, from Conestoga College, in Ontario.